AUTO SKIDS, STRIKES A RIG AND DOES DAMAGE

The thick accumulation of clay which was washed from Twenty-fifth street hill and carried north on Washington avenue by the heavy rains of the past two days, caused a collision in which both shafts of a buggy were broken and one of the sidesteps of the auto was badly bent.

The accident occurred about 9:20 o'clock and the automobile, a seven-passenger touring car, belonging to Judge H. H. Rolapp, which was being driven by Chauffeur Bob Majer, between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-fourth streets, began to skid in front of the Ogden Furniture and Carpet company's store. The chauffeur applied the brakes, but the speed at which the big car was going, combined with the slippery clay on the street, kept it skidding in a zig-zag way for nearly a hundred feet, when it crashed into a horse and buggy which was standing in front of the Western Union Telegraph office. The rig was unoccupied and up to a late hour this afternoon its owner was not learned.

The accident caused considerable excitement and, shortly after it occurred, Officer William Reast appeared on the scene and took the name of the chauffeur, who made the statement that the car was going at a rate of 15 miles an hour. Mr. Rolapp was not present but a relative requested the officer to inform him as to who owned the wrecked buggy, and it is probable that the damage will be met by the chauffeur of the car.

DEPRESSION IS WORLD WIDE

Raleigh, S. C., June 4.—Secretary of Commerce Redfield, in a speech today before the Chamber of Commerce, discussed business conditions throughout the country. In part he said:

"If we would place the business atmosphere of the country on a sort of commercial weather map, such as is used by the weather service we should find a curious condition. In the extreme southeast and southwest would be areas where the business barometer is high. All through the great central part of the country, where the bulk of our wheat is grown, would be another great area of fair weather and high pressure. Over the great cotton areas of the south would be no depression. High barometer also prevails where automobiles are made in and about the lake area. Over the northeastern states would be found a section of low barometer and marked depressions."

Foreign Depression. After citing reports of depression in various foreign countries, Mr. Redfield continued:

"That which affects one nation adversely is reflected upon the others. It is the merest childlike to select one of them from the others and deal with it as if its own internal procedure were the sole cause of the conditions found in it. In like manner any argument to the effect that the alleged attitude of our government toward 'big business' is the cause of such depression as exists here is met by the fact that in Germany, where trusts and cartels are legalized and the government assists both, the depression is even more severe than it has been here. 'Any view therefore, of the world's business finds it in a state of depression almost everywhere, with ocean freights so low because of the shortage of international traffic on the sea that ship owners are beginning to consider whether it is not cheaper to lay their vessels up than to run them at a material loss.

Psychological Condition. "It is true that a psychological depression is none the less a depression because it is psychological. We may therefore fairly take into other conditions to see whether the mental state that exists has a justification in solid fact.

"It is true, is it not, as one looks over the country that all the conditions upon which sound business should rest exist in full force and vigor? Few will contend that merchants are overstocked. Rather is the reverse true. Money is not so scarce that banks refuse legitimate borrowers. The reverse is true. "If you and I get away from the crowded centers of our middle and eastern states where mental mourning exists for conditions that can never return since the day of mastery is over and commerce must henceforth be a servant—if, I say, we get away from these centers into which the light is breaking but which it has not yet fully illuminated, we shall find a different atmosphere."

KING ALFONSO EAGER TO VISIT AMERICA
New York, June 5.—King Alfonso of Spain is anxious to come to the United States next year to visit the Panama-Pacific exposition in San Francisco and to play polo, according to J. Chevers Colgin, a prominent polo player of the Pacific coast, who arrived from Europe today on the steamer Aquitania.

"I talked to King Alfonso one afternoon last month," said Mr. Colgin. "Just as he came from a polo game where he had played nine periods. The king was wet with perspiration, but he was smiling and happy. He said to me: 'I want to go to the Panama-Pacific exposition in the United States next year, but just now they won't let me. I am in the position of the small boy who cried for the money and who was told he could not have it.'"
